Message from Ipswich Mayor, Teresa Harding

Winter in our city is definitely the season of fun, fast-paced action and adrenaline, coupled with celebrations of the people, places, arts and culture of Ipswich. Plenty to warm you up.

The Festival of Horsepower will be back throughout June with another month-long program packed full of excitement.

The annual festival includes a number of Australia's signature racing and motorsport events, featuring the Gulf Western Oil Winternationals at Willowbank Raceway.

At Australia's largest drag racing event, you will see the amazing flame throwing 'Top Fuel Funny Cars' with up to 400 vehicles competing for the national championship honours.

The TAB Ipswich Cup is always a crowd favourite. Whether it's the horses you follow, the fashions on the field, DJ festival or catching up with old friends, it's Ipswich's social event of the year, this year on 22 June.

SPARK Ipswich is an 11-day citywide event, a festival of arts and culture running from 4 to 14 July.

When the sun goes down, deLight comes to life showcasing large-scale projections on local architecture. Gather your family and friends, and explore the projections and music in d'Arcy Doyle Place from 6.00 pm to 9.00 pm each night, or enjoy a myriad of live performances and experiences from a local venue.

And we don't forget the young ones. Little by name but big in fun. A SPARK Ipswich festival favourite, Little Day Out is Ipswich's signature children's music and arts festival.

With a focus on sustainability, Little Day Out is bursting with music, hands-on art experiences, food and roving entertainment.

There are numerous events and attractions at Ipswich Civic Centre, Studio 188, Ipswich Art Gallery and more to round out a jam-packed festival program. So, brave the cooler temps and enjoy a wonderful winter in Ipswich.

WOMEN WASTE NO TIME JOINING RESOURCE RECOVERY

Kylie Frost, Belinda Janson and Liz Ketchup all smiles before starting their shift at Riverview depot.

In 2021, Belinda Janson was the only female waste truck driver in Ipswich City Council's (council) Resource Recovery team.

Now, almost 10 per cent of the team of 70 are women – and council isn't stopping there.

In 2021, council applied for and was granted an exemption by the Queensland Industrial Relations Commission (QIRC) under the Anti-Discrimination Act to advertise for females only to be recruited for a training program, in a bid to increase the number of women in this part of our workforce.

The ruling by QIRC meant council was exempt for three years from relevant sections of the Anti-Discrimination Act in relation to the advertising and recruitment of waste truck drivers.

However, this exemption was ultimately not required. Following the landmark ruling, council shared Belinda's story online and through the media to raise awareness among women in the community.

This alone proved effective in encouraging women to come forward and apply for existing opportunities available.

"I'm thrilled that more girls are getting on board," Ms Janson said.

"I love this job, it's good fun. There's no reason at all that it can't be done by different genders – it's a job for everybody.

"I'd say to anyone that is interested to give it a go. All of us girls love it!"

WINTER

activities for the whole family

Spending some time outside and making the most of Ipswich's warm sunny days.

Get outdoors

Spending the day hiking, biking or walking around the 8,500ha of parks and conservation estates in Ipswich including Flinders Peak (pictured). The weather is perfect for outdoor exploration as the days are warm but there's a coolness to the air.

Try an adrenaline fuelled adventure

Whether your passion lies in escape rooms, motorsport or soaring to new heights, there are several ways to get your blood pumping in Ipswich. Try your hand at gel blasters, Rage Cage Smash Rooms (pictured) or the new go-kart track at Queensland Raceway for an awesome adventure.

Have a picnic

There are some amazing places to have a picnic in Ipswich. Choose from lux styled picnics where someone else takes care of all the hard work for you, or opt to visit one of the city's fantastic parks like Queens Park (pictured above), where all you need do is pack the esky. Check out the list for some more location ideas.

Explore your inner farmer

Spend a weekend exploring farms, like The Llama Farm (pictured), tasting produce and meeting animals. Learn all about farm life and at the end of the day stay in a rural retreat with gorgeous country views.

Taste comforting dishes

When it starts to get cool, there's nothing better than a warming, hearty meal. Think butter chicken, mouth-watering burgers and melt in your mouth ribs like the ones at Bakehouse Steakhouse (pictured). Scan the QR code for a list of venues serving up top comfort food in Ipswich.

General Public is joining the Nicholas Street Precinct.

NEW ONE-STOP ENTERTAINMENT VENUE TO OPEN FOR GENERAL PUBLIC IN IPSWICH

A major Victorian entertainment company will soon call Nicholas Street Precinct home after signing up to open in the Nicholas Street Venue building.

General Public, which operates three outlets in Victoria, will bring their 'eatertainment' concept to the Nicholas Street Venue, including state-of-the-art arcade games, 14 tenpin bowling lanes, golf simulators, billiard tables, food and licensed drinking spots.

General Public is making its first expansion outside Victoria and is expected to be operating at the Nicholas Street Venue by late 2024 in an almost 3,000 square metres entertainment space on the ground floor of the site.

Nicholas Street Precinct is set to become the premier leisure, entertainment and cultural destination in the heart of a revitalised Ipswich Central.

General Public will include tenpin bowling lanes, billiard tables, darts room, event spaces, a great music ambience, and Ipswich's latest arcade centre with interactive games suitable for all.

The $71.9 million Nicholas Street Venue building will be Ipswich's largest entertainment hub, with 12,500 square metres of multiple leisure and hospitality businesses over two levels.

Up to 10 businesses will lease space in the Nicholas Street Venue once the redevelopment is complete later this year.

DAY TRIPS TO IPSWICH ON THE RISE

Ipswich continues to be a destination of choice for both local and international visitors.

Ipswich's burgeoning reputation as a destination of choice is being fuelled by the highest number of day trippers to the region since the COVID-19 outbreak.

The latest data released from Tourism Research Australia revealed day trips to the region were up 15.3 per cent year on year, with only 2019 reporting higher numbers. In 2023, day trips were up considerably to nearly 1.5 million visits.

The Tourism Research Australia data also included international visitor numbers for the first time since COVID-19, showing promising green shoots for local tourist operators.

International tourism was up 1.5 per cent on the previous figure prior to the COVID-19 shutdown period.

Encouraging more visitors, visitor nights, length of stay and visitor expenditure have all been targets of council's Destination Management Plan and City Events Plan, with the new figures showing pay-off from these plans.

FROM IPSWICH TO THE BERYLS:

A Journey Driven by Passion and Fun

Patrick Dwyer's fascination with comedic legends like Jim Carrey and Mike Myers, during his childhood, fuelled his unwavering determination to pursue a career in entertainment. This avid passion ultimately led him to collaborate with Laura Trenerry, resulting in the creation of The Beryls after their university years in Toowoomba. Through their improvisational sessions, the characters Roger and Victoria were born, embodying the distinctive essence of The Beryls.

Embracing Victoria's confidence on stage, Patrick has adopted personal mantras that enhance his performances. He believes in the adoration of every audience member and embraces unexpected mishaps as spontaneous elements of the show.

Amidst the whirlwind of performances, Patrick cherishes the laughter-filled moments shared with friends from the theatre world. These bonds, formed through mutual experiences and passion, have consistently provided him with support and joy throughout his career.

Performing in Ipswich holds a treasure trove of cherished memories for Patrick. Winning the Best Actor award at the One Act Play Festival at Ipswich Little Theatre when he was around 8 or 9 ignited his lifelong passion for performance. Another memorable highlight was 'Little Boxes' at the Anywhere Festival in Brisbane, an outdoor production in a vast car park that epitomised experimental theatre.

Reflecting on performing for his hometown crowd, Patrick expresses, "As I gaze into the audience, I see familiar faces – individuals who have been with me since the beginning. Their steadfast support is a testament to our community's strength and a constant reminder of my profound gratitude for this enriching career journey."

IPSWICH ART WORKSHOP TO OPEN THE DOORS TO THE CITY'S CREATIVE COMMUNITY

The Ipswich Art Workshop will host a range of community art classes and events.

The former Jamie's Ministry of Food in d'Arcy Doyle Place within Ipswich Central has reopened as the new Ipswich Art Workshop, an arts hub for the city's creative community.

Council approved the Ipswich Arts Advisory Group's recommended approach of initial activation through a diverse range of activities and workshops.

A variety of workshops will allow council to gauge community interest, both from the wider Ipswich community and the local creative community.

The initial activations will include weekend and evening classes, and workshops programmed by the Ipswich Art Gallery designed to align with Ipswich Art Gallery and Ipswich Community Gallery exhibitions, and ad hoc masterclass workshops organised to enhance the skills of local artists.

The former Jamie's Ministry of Food has been decommissioned as a training kitchen, with all cooking equipment and appliances removed, with stove tops, ovens, cooking equipment and small appliances transferred to charity organisation GIVIT, which will be provided to community organisations.

Local ceramist Jane Du Rand connected council with Brisbane Boys Grammar School, which donated used equipment to the new studio such as tables, stools, map/plan drawers, a printing press, camera tripods and a photography backdrop.

IPSWICH

4 - 14 JULY

A FESTIVAL OF ARTS AND CULTURE

MAYOR'S MESSAGE

It's time to ignite your passion for the City of Ipswich.

The fourth annual SPARK Ipswich festival is set to light up the city once more with a diverse medley of music, art, culture and unique new experiences.

Ipswich's people and places will remain at the heart of the 2024 festival with another 11-day program full of arts and cultural events, activations and performances.

A Teddy Bear's Picnic is new to the packed program, with children and their families set to enjoy brunch on a picnic blanket alongside their favourite teddy.

Crowd favourite events Little Day Out and WOMI will return, while deLight will feature the works of 17 local artists projected across 143 Brisbane Street and St Paul's Anglican Church in spectacular light works.

An Ipswich team will again don sequins and spandex to take on other areas of South East Queensland in the Common People Dance Project and this will be the ultimate finisher for the SPARK Ipswich festival this year.

There will be plenty of hands-on workshops, live performance and visual SPARK-taculars to ignite the creativity of you, your friends and family, right across the region.

Join us as we celebrate all that our great city has to offer and discover your SPARK in 2024.

Ipswich City Council respectfully acknowledges the Traditional Owners as custodians of the land and waters we share. We pay our respects to their Elders past, present and emerging, as the keepers of the traditions, customs, cultures and stories of proud peoples.

WELCOME

Our fourth citywide festival of arts and culture showcases local talent and creates unique audience experiences for all. We celebrate the cultural diversity of the region as WOMI returns to Orion Springfield Central with a bold line up of world music. delLight and pixel use cutting edge technology to shine a spotlight on local visual artists, and d'Arcy Doyle Place offers up a nightly program of local musicians. Little Day Out and the inaugural Teddy Bear's Picnic are bursting with cultural experiences for little people and their families. And there is much, much more!

The 2024 program is teeming with exhibitions, music, performances and hands on experiences across the city, revelling in the world class artists, musicians and performers that call Ipswich home. We invite you to dive deep into this year's program, to fill your diary with creative experiences, and adventure to new places and spaces.

FEATURE ARTIST RENEE YATES

For SPARK Ipswich 2024, local artist Renee Yates was commissioned to create Home, a mixed-media artwork using coloured pencil drawings and cut paper collage that captures four different landscapes of the Ipswich region. Elements of the work are featured throughout the festival program and through the light art installations at d'Arcy Doyle Place and pixel.

Renee has lived and worked in the Ipswich region for 16 years. Her practice focuses on storytelling using hybrid analogue and digital techniques, combining original coloured pencil drawings, cut paper collage, and digital media – including field recordings – to create representations of local landscapes. In addition to her arts practice, Renee is an award-winning educator and Media Arts teacher at a local high school.

d'ARCY DOYLE PLACE

Join us nightly in d'Arcy Doyle Place, a meeting place to begin your SPARK Ipswich journey of discovery.

Chill out and enjoy illuminated artworks, artist talks and music under the starry sky. Gather together before heading on to one of the many live shows, performances and exhibitions on offer across Ipswich.
